

B.S. Health Studies Healthcare Leadership

The online concentration in Healthcare Leadership (HCL) provides a comprehensive exposure to the field of leadership with coursework in areas such as the healthcare environment, professionalism, leadership, business skills and communication. The need for qualified healthcare administrators with leadership acumen and ethical fitness is significant, as these individuals are in great demand within the dynamic and complex healthcare landscape.

Career Planning

Each program within the School of Health Studies requires a 240- or 360-hour internship during the student's senior year. The internship experience allows students to apply what they learn in the classroom to the workplace.

The School of Health Studies Career Specialist, Fonda Fracchia, provides students with professional career counseling/coaching, resume critiques, mock interviews, job search strategies, career events, networking opportunities and more. Contact Fonda to set up an appointment, 901.678.5160, ffacchia@memphis.edu.
