

Did you Do the Reading:

How to Read (and Discuss) Academic Articles

Task 1.4

Pre Task

What are the main parts of the academic/scholarly article?

Which ones are the most important to read? Which ones can you skim?

https://drive.google.com/file/d/1yUIB8VlvUvN3rhy2fsxgWbcUiGnlirUY/view?usp=drive_link

Pre Task (cont.)

- *Abstract
- Introduction/Lit Review
- Methods
- *Results
- Discussion
- *Conclusion

What is the researchers hypothesis?

What is being measured?

Which data collection measures were used?

What was the most interesting finding in your opinion?

What conclusions were drawn?

What are some limitations that you noticed in the study? How would you address them if you were the researcher?

How could this study be used in the future?

Task Goal and Directions

Read an academic article and take detailed notes.

1. Read the article
2. Fill out the Google doc with notes
3. Use your notes to discuss the article

1. Read the article

Find the shared Google folder titled “Students’ Work.”
Read the pdf titled, “article.pdf.” Remember to skim when you can and read key parts of the article first.

2. Fill out the Google doc with notes

In the “Students’ Work” folder find the document titled, “Hispanic....” Take notes. You can assign one person to take notes on a specific part of an article or all work on it together. Remember to pull out salient points that can help you answer discussion questions.

3. Use your notes to discuss the article

Discuss.

1. What is the researchers' hypothesis?
2. What is being measured?
3. Which data collection measures were used?
4. What was the most interesting finding in your opinion?
5. What conclusions were drawn?
6. What are some limitations that you noticed in the study? How would you address them if you were the researcher?
7. How could this study be used in the future?

How did you decide which aspects of the article were noteworthy and which were not?
Examples?

Exit Ticket 1.4