

A young person my age can help others by telling my story. That is what lead me to decide on being an advocate. I feel like I can help.

I am very proud of how far I've come.

