

Find Your Voice

I want to be the helping hand that I didn't get. My dream is to help people who are going through situations that they don't think they can overcome. I can understand them because I have been there.

There aren't many transwomen that are willing to be a voice. Let me tell you about my struggle so you can relate. With all that I've been through, I've tried to find somebody that despite everything, still loves and cares for me. I never thought I'd find someone who would love me, basically. And to find somebody who really, really loves me... That, that means a whole lot to me.

The higher the heel, the more it makes me feel that I am standing tall over the things that are obstacles for me.

Through advocacy and determination, we can finally get to the point where there can be justice for all!!!
