TigerLIFE Fall 2017 Semester
The new semester began in late August and TigerLIFE welcomed back 52 returning students and 25 new students! We also have our 20 students who completed last May and are taking advantage of our job placement support services. So we have a full house this semester!

Thanks to Dr. Kay Reeves and Memory Turner for our standardized class syllabi they completed over the summer. These provide course descriptions, learning objectives and learning outcomes for each of the TigerLIFE classes. We invite you to review these online at: http://www.memphis.edu/tigerlife/about/.

Our Healthy Living lab at Church Health has 24 students enrolled! They are learning to cook healthy recipes such as humus wraps with roasted veggies, chicken nuggets and baked sweet potato fries. All of our students loved their chicken and fries but it was a split decision on the humus wraps! And after cooking, our students try out different exercise routines.

One of our seniors, Ben Sumner, did this fb posting which we love....and we love Ben!

TigerLIFE Summer Recap
This summer we began community-based externships thanks to our partners at Church Health. Four students worked at Church Health in the Crosstown Concourse two days per week in customer service, procurement and special community art projects.

Our students had the opportunity to experience a yoga class with Church Health—YMCA in the Crosstown Concourse. Another split decision on how much they liked the class.

During a far-ranging exercise focused on independent navigation of the university campus, TigerLIFE students worked together to identify and interpret pedestrian signage while making numerous stops along the way.

Impromptu invited guests share their experiences with TigerLIFE students during Advocacy class. The McCurley’s are both blind and operate a thriving vending machine business.
