Purpose

This documentation highlights how to use the Chat option in eCourseware.

Audience

The documentation is intended for University Faculty and Staff.

Chat

The chat tool within eCourseware is a real-time, text-based communication and collaboration tool. You can use the Chat tool to brainstorm ideas, hold a question and answer period, have a debate or discussion, or organize a remote study group. As opposed to other collaboration tools, such as Discussions, Chat conversations occur in real-time.

eCourseware offers two types of chats:

- A Personal Chat - A private chat room that is visible only to users who you have added to the chat's participants list. Personal chats are ideal for keeping in touch with friends and colleagues or for clubs and other groups whose members do not share a single org unit.
- General (course) chats - A public chats visible to everyone enrolled in the course. Instructors can create general chat rooms to incorporate chat discussions into the teaching of a course since they are automatically open to all users enrolled in the course.

Using Chat

To begin a chat click the Chat tool located on the course navigation bar.

The screenshot shows a 'New Chat' form with the following elements:

- Title : A text input field.
- Type: Two radio buttons, 'General chat' (selected) and 'Personal chat'.
- Note: A red text warning: 'The chat type cannot be changed once you click Create.'
- Description: A rich text editor toolbar with icons for video, image, link, paragraph (selected), bold, italic, underline, bulleted list, numbered list, and indent.

Add a chat message

Type a message in the text box at the bottom of the chat room, and press Enter on your keyboard or click Send.

Refresh your chat window

If you think new messages are not appearing on your screen fast enough, click Refresh at the top of the chat. This option appears when you select New Messages in Settings.

See who else is chatting

The Participants pane displays a list of users currently signed in to a chat room.

Locating Help Resources
