Online Learning | UofM Global programs are 100% online and nationally recognized. Study on your schedule from anywhere while earning the same University of Memphis diploma as on-campus students.

Personalized Support | Your dedicated LiFE Coach is your partner from start to finish, helping you navigate your options and stay on track to graduation. Whether you start with the LiFE Prep Academy or enter directly into a degree program, you'll have expert guidance every step of the way.

Tuition Benefit | Receive up to $5,250 per year through the FedEx tuition assistance program. Your UofM Global LiFE Coach will help you maximize these benefits and create a plan that fits your budget.

Prep Academy | The LiFE Prep Academy is an ideal first step for FedEx employees ready to start or continue their education. Upon completion, you'll receive guaranteed admission to the University of Memphis and 12 college credits at a fraction of the cost—with no exams or additional requirements. This cost-effective pathway helps you maximize your FedEx tuition benefit while saving on your first college credits.

Designed for working professionals, the program is 100% online and self-paced, allowing you to learn on your schedule with unlimited attempts and no deadlines. It's a supportive, low-pressure way to build confidence, especially if you're new to online learning, while developing essential skills in academic success, life skills, and professional development.

From Experience to Credit | Turn what you already know into college credit through the University of Memphis' Credit for Prior Learning (CPL) program. Earn academic credit for college-level knowledge gained through work, military service, certifications, and other life experiences, helping you save money and finish your degree sooner. Credit may be awarded through military transcripts, pre-assessed credentials, or a faculty-reviewed portfolio.

LiFE: Learning inspired by FedEx is a tuition assistance program for in-person and online students, offered by FedEx in partnership with the University of Memphis.
